

History, Enterprise, Fund Raising

I have talked a lot over the years about the history of Clydebank High School and the service that the school has delivered to the town of Clydebank. I am delighted to report that a particular group of FPs is now returning the favour by giving the school a great deal of help. The people in question all graduated from Clydebank High just over 50 years ago.

- One of their number, Mr Drew McGhie, has undertaken a massive project to produce a book that consists of all of the magazines (yearbooks) from the 1950s i.e. 1950-1959. The end result is a fascinating social history of the period that will be of huge interest to anyone who was involved in Clydebank High School at that time. This book is now available to buy at a cost of £16. Orders can be made in the first instance by contacting Mrs Diane Cramb in the school office on 0141 530 3000. This would make a fantastic birthday or Christmas present for anyone connected with the school. I thoroughly recommend it to you.

"all graduated from Clydebank High just over 50 years ago"

- Although the book contains the material from the 1950s magazines, it has been completely re-printed so it is tremendously fresh and modern looking. Drew McGhie has put a huge amount of effort into this book. Please support him and his colleagues by buying it! Any profit made will be handed over to Clydebank High School where it will be used to finance some new school awards.
